PREFACE

In 1984, When I passed the period of the rains' retreat (Buddhist lent) in Amaravati Monastery at Great Geddesden, England, some disciples of the Venerable Ajahn Sumedha, the abbot of the monastery, gave their attention to the study of the Pali Language. They obtained permission from the abbot for this purpose, and I agreed to teach them the Pali Language. It thus occured to me to prepare a course of easy lessons, which they could cover in a period of four months.

I found most of them could easily grasp the language, and at the close of the four months, some of them could even translate Pali Suttas with the help of a Pali Dictionary. Some friends and pupils of mine, both in England and America, who went through those lessons, suggested that it would be of much benefit, for students, were those lessons to be reproduced in book with the addition of a glossary and a key to all the exercises. I listened to them and this book "Pali Made Easy" is the outcome. The first edition of this book was published by the Nirodha Foundation in Shri Lanka in 1988. This is the second edition of the same with some change and improvements.

Pronunciation

Vowels

a	is pronounced	like	u	in	us
a	is pronounced	like	а	in	art
1	is pronounced	like	i	in	is
f .	is pronounced	like	ee	in	cel .
и	is pronounced	like	U	in	put
a	is pronounced	like	00	in	boon

- e is short before more than one consonant. Then it is pronounced like e in end, e.g. ettha, seyyo. It is always long before single consonants, e.g. evam, seti. e stands as the final vowel of a word is also pronounced as long e, e.g. me, nagare.
- o is short before more than one consonant and is pronounced like o in ox, e.g. oitha, sotthi. It is always long before single consonants and is pronounced like o in bone, e.g. odana, sota. The final o of a word is also long as o in 'lo', e.g. so, buddho.

2. Pronunciation of Consonants

k, j, n, p, b, m, y, v, r, l are pronounced like the same in English.

8	is pronounced	as g	in	get.	E.g.	gacchati
С	is pronounced	as ch	in	church.		carati
ţ	is pronounced	as t	in	tin.		vațțati
đ	is pronounced	as d	in	dim.		uddeti
i	is pronounced	as th	in	thatch.		tarati
d	is pronounced	as th	in	the.		dadāti
1	is pronounced	as I	in	Wilhelm.		virūļha
'n	is pronounced	as n	in	sink.		sangha
ñ	is pronounced	as gn	in	signora.		ñāyati
ņ	is pronounced	as n	in	wind.		karana
m	is pronounced	as ng	in	sing.		samharati

When k, g, c, j, i, d, i, d, p and b are followed by h to form the aspirated consonants as kh, gh, ch, th, etc., they are somewhat heavily pronounced, e.g. khayo, ghanam, chaya, jhanam, thanam, vaddhati, santharati, phalam, bhamati.

3. Parts of Speech

All declined words such as Nouns, Pronouns, Adjectives and declinable Participles are summed up under the term 'Nama'.

Verbs come under the term 'Akhyāta'.

All Prepositions, Conjunctions, Adverbs (Indeclinable) and Interjections come under the term 'Nipdta' (Indeclinables). Prefixes are Upasaggas.

4. Stems. Stems are crude forms to which Case-endings are added. Some Stems end in vowels and others in consonants.

- 5. Genders. There are three Genders of substantives, namely Masculine, Feminine and Neuter. Generally Nouns that express male beings are regarded as nouns in Masculine Gender, and those that express female beings are Nouns of Feminine Gender. Most nouns that express neither male nor female beings are called Nouns of Neuter Gender. But some words like 'mātugāma' which means 'a woman' are declined as a noun of Masculine Gender. The noun 'devatā' (deity or angel) is a Feminine Noun in spite of the fact that it represents heavenly beings or spirits both male and female. Actually the Gender in Pali Grammar is rather a grammatical gender.
- 6. Cases. Nouns or declinable words are declined in seven cases as, Nominative, Vocative, Accusative, Instrumental, Ablative, Dative, Genitive, and Locative. Just as in Latin and Greek, in Pali, Case-endings are added to Nouns (declinable words).
- 7. Verbs. Verbs are formed from verbal roots by adding conjugational terminations. There are seven Conjugations, six Tenses and three Moods.
- 8. Tenses. Present Tense, Aorist (past) Tense, Imperfect Past, Perfect Past, Future Tense and Conditional Tense. Moods: Indicative, Optative and Conditional.

9. Persons are three as First Person, Second Person and Third Person. 10. Numbers are two as Singular Number and Plural Number.

LESSON 1

Verbs

Present Tense (Indicative Mood)

Verbal terminations

	Singular		Plural
First Person	-mi		-ma
Second Person	-si	•	-tha
Third Person	-ti		-(a)nti

Root: dhāv (to run), verbal base: dhāva.

First Person	dhāvāmi (I) run	dhāvāma (We) run
Second Person	dhāvasi (You) run	dhāvatha (You) run
Third Person	dhāvati (He) runs	dhāvanti (They) run

- N.B. The final 'a' of the base is lengthened before 'm' of the verbal terminations: dhāvāmi, dhāvāma.
- 11. The person and the number are determined by the verbal terminations. Hence they are understood even though they are not given in the sentence.
- 12. The present tense generally states a happening or action that cocurs at the present moment. This same tense is used as the Present Emphatic and also as the Present continuous. So, "dhāvāmi" may mean 'I run', 'I do run', or 'I am running'.
- 13. This tense is also used to express a happening common to all times as: Jätä miyanti (those that have been born die).
- 14. If the personal termination ('-ti') of the third person singular of the Present Tense is removed we would get the verbal base. Dhāvati is the verb. When '-ti' is removed we get dhāva, which is the base of the same verb.

23. The optative verbs are used to express a supposition, doubt, possibility, mild command, request invitation, courteous question, and also a prayer. These verbs may be translated into English by using the auxiliary verbs 'may, might, should' or 'would'. Thus "so dhāveyya" means 'He may run, He might run, He should run' or 'He would run'.

tath ā	: so, in that way	Na	: not

yathā : in whatever way, such as katham : how, in what way?

sace (if), yadi (if). These particles begin a sentence when it expresses a supposition: sace(yadi) so gaccheyya, if he would go, if he should go. sakkoti (root: sak), he is able.

- Note 1: 'a' is prefixed to the verbs of Past Tense. But optionally it may be dropped, e.g. dhāvim, kiņim, desesim, karim, hanim, etc., instead of adhāvim, akiņim, adesesim, akarim, and ahanim respectively.
- Note 2: The particle 'mā' stands before Aorist verbs to express a prohibition as: mā āgacchi (Don't come), mā gacchi (Don't go), mā kari (Don't do, Don't make).
- Note 3: idāni (now), tadā (at that time, then), yadā (whenever, when), kadā (when?)

When did you plough? 9. When I touched, (then) I knew. 10. We thought when we heard (when we heard, then we thought.)

LESSON 9

Negation: To express negation, the particle 'na' is placed before a verb, e.g. na gacchati (he does not go).

Question: A question begins with 'api', 'api nu' or 'kim'. 'kim' may be placed even at the end of a sentence, e.g. api gacchasi? api nu gacchasi? kim gacchasi? gacchasi kim? (Do you go?)

Gerund "(i)nvä"

A Gerund in Pali expresses such statements as 'having gone' or 'after going', e.g. So tatra gantvå idha ågacchati (he, having gone there, comes back here), (he, after going there, comes here), or (he goes there and comes here). So tatra gantvå idha ågacchi (having gone there, he came here), or (he went there and came here).

So tatra gantvā idha āgacchissau (having gone there, he will come here), or (he will go there and come here, i.e. he will go there and return). In these sentences gantvā is the gerund (of gacchati).

Infinitive (of purpose) "(i)tum"

So idha vasitum icchati (he wishes, likes, hopes to stay here). Here 'vasitum' is the infinitive of vasati (He dwells, He stays, He lives). Generally the Infinitive stands before the finite verb or predicative participle.

Note 1: Sometimes the suffix 'na' is added to gerunds as: vasitvāna, gantvāna, thatvāna.

Note 2: When a prefix is added, the suffix '-ya' might be added to the verbal root to form the Gerund, e.g. $ud + th\bar{a} + ya = uth\bar{a}ya$; ni + sad + ya = nisajja; $\bar{a} + gam + ya = \bar{a}gamma$.

LESSON 10

Nouns

24. Nouns are declined in three genders, two numbers and eight cases. Three genders: masculine, feminine and neuter. Two numbers: singular and plural.
Singular and plural.

Eight cases: Nominative, Vocative, Accusative, Instrumental, Ablative, Dative, Genitive and Locative.

- 25. Nouns are divided into two groups with reference to their endings: some ending in vowels and others ending in consonants.
- 26. Masculine nouns: some masculine nouns end in 'a', some in 'i', some in 'i', some in 'u' and others in 'u' and some end in 'o'. These are the masculine nouns ending in vowels. Those ending in consonants will be dealt with in lessons 21, 22, 23 and 24.
- 27. 'Buddha' is a masculine noun ending in 'a', 'muni' ending in 'i', 'senānl' ending in 'l', 'garu' ending in 'u', 'vidū' ending in 'a' and the anomalous noun 'go' ending in 'o'.
- 28. Nominative Case. In nominative singular the final 'a' of the noun-stem becomes 'o', the final 'i, I, u, u' or 'o' remains unchanged.

Noun stems Buddha (Buddha) muni (sage) senānī (general of the army) garu (preceptor) vidū (wise man or knower) go (ox) Nominative Singular Buddho (a Buddha or the Buddha) muni (a sage or the sage) senānt (a general or the general) garu (a preceptor or the preceptor) vidū (a wise man or the wise man) go (an ox or the ox)

29. In Nominative Plural, the final a becomes a, the final i becomes a or ayo, the final u becomes a or avo, the final becomes a or ano, the final a becomes a or uno, the final o becomes avo.

Examples:Noun stemsNominative PluralBuddhaBuddhā (Buddhas, the Buddhas)munimunī, munāyo (sages, the sages)garugarā, garāvo (preceptors, the preceptors)senānīsenānī, senānino (generals, the generals)vidūvidū, viduno (wise men, the wise men)gogāvo (oxen, the oxen)

- 10. Sace sūdā na paceyyum, mayam bhunjitum kuhim gaccheyyāma?

LESSON 12

31. Adjective. An adjective agrees with the noun it qualifies in gender, number and case. Generally an adjective stands before the noun it qualifies. But if there are many adjectives qualifying the same noun, most often they may follow it.

Examples: seto asso (a white horse), seta assa (white horses), kuţumbiko addho mahaddhano mahābhogo (a householder opulent, very wealthy and possessing much property)

- 32. Predicative use. Sometimes a noun plays the part of a predicate and it should necessarily agree with its subject in case: Putta manussanam vatthu (children are men's wealth).
- 33. If the predicate be an adjective, it should agree with the subject in gender, number and case: Kāmā hi citrā madhurā manoharā (sense-pleasures are diverse, sweet and delightful) M.II.74.
- 34. Noun in apposition. A noun in apposition, too, agrees with the noun it modifies in case, and if possible, in gender and number, too.

Examples: suppiyo paribbājako (suppiya the wandering mendicant monk) D.I. Samano gotamo (the recluse Gotama) M.I.375.

Sometimes the particle 'nāma' (by name, named) follows the proper noun in this construction: Yaññadatto nāma brāmhaņo (a brahmin named yaññadatta) D.II.8.

- 35. Natthi (there is not, there are not), muså (lie): these particles may stand as predicate. Sankhārā sassatā natthi (no conditioned things are eternal) Dh.255. Tam musā (it is a lie).
- 36. Past participles stand as predicate: Apārutā tesam amatassa dvārā (opened are the gates of immortality for them) S.I.138.
- 37. Subjective complement agrees with the subject in case and number: Tvam kiso asi (you are lean). Here 'kiso' is adjective used as subjective complement.

- 38. Euphonic combinations
 - (a) When two vowels of the same kind meet together (only when they are followed by a single consonant), they blend into the long vowel of the same kind: a + a = d; i + i = t; u + u = dExamples: na aham = nāham; muni idha = munīdha
 - (b) The short vowel that follows 'o' is elided and an apostrophe is put in its place. kiso asi = kiso'si.
 - (c) The 'm' followed by a vowel is changed into 'm' and is joined to the following vowel: tvam asi = tvam asi = tvamasi.
- 39. Pronouns are also used as adjectives. Then they agree with the noun they qualify in gender, number and case. So puriso (that man), te purisa (those men).

Vocabulary

LESSON 13

40. Vocative Case

Vocativa Care

All stems ending in 'a', 'i' or 'u' remain unchanged in vocative singular. The final long 'I' and ' \bar{u} ' (of the i-stems and \bar{u} -stems) become short in vocative singular. The vocative plural of all these nouns are the same as their nominative plural.

vocative Case
Stem	Singular	Plural
Buddha	Buddha (O Buddha)	Buddhā ((Buddhas)
muni	muni	muni
garu	garu	garū
senānī	senāni	senānī, setānino
vidū	vidu	vidū
go	go	gāvo

Very seldom the form 'Buddhā' is found in vocative singular in verses. Some special vocative forms: Bho, he (hallo) (sing.); Bhavanto (pl.); āvuso (friend); bhante (venerable sir, your holiness); tāta (dear one) (sing.); tātā (pl.).

41. Accusative Case

In accusative singular the nasal 'm' is added to all nouns. Long 't' and 'a' become short before 'm'. Examples: Buddham, munim, garum, senanim, vidum. The anomalous stem 'go' becomes 'gavam, gavam, gavam, gavam'. In accusative plural the final 'a' of a-noun becomes 'e' as 'Buddhe', plural forms of other stems are the same as their nominative plurals.

Accusative Case

Stem	Singular	Plural
Buddha	Buddham	Buddhe
muni	munim	munt, munayo
garu	garum	garū, garavo
senānī	senānim	senānī, senānino
vidū	vidum	vidu, viduno
go	gavam, gāvam, gāvum	gāvo

42. The accusative case expresses the direct object of a verb (of active voice) as So rukkham chindati (he cuts down the tree). Here 'rukkham' is the direct object.

The accusative singular of 'ka' (who) is 'kam' (whom), its plural is 'ke' (whom), nom. sing.: 'ko'

The accusative of the goal of motion. The accusative form is also used to express the place or person to which or to whom one goes: So gaman gacchati (he goes to the village). So Buddham upasankamati (he goes to the Buddha).

43. Ca. The particle 'ca' (and) follows every word it joins together in sense. Sometimes it follows only one of those words, most often the last one: Kodho ca māno ca, kodho māno ca (wrath and conceit). Ahaņ kasāmi ca vapāmi ca, ahaņ kasāmi vapāmi ca (I plough and sow).

44. Hi. The enclitic 'hi' is sometimes used to express the idea "as for" or "on....part". Aham hi samana kasāmi ca vapāmi ca (as for me, I, O recluse, plough and sow) or (on my part, O recluse, I plough and sow). Sometimes 'hi' is used in the sense "certainly, indeed": Na hi so socati (certainly he doesn't grieve).

LESSON 14

Instrumental and Ablative Cases

45. The Instrumental Cases answers the questions: 'with whom or with what by whom or by what, by means of what, and because of whom or what?'

Thus, 'Buddhena' means 'with the Buddha, by the Buddha, by means of the Buddha' or 'because of the Buddha'.

- 46. The Ablative Case answers the questions: 'from whom, from what, from where, out of whom, out of what?' Thus, 'Buddhasmā' means 'from the Buddha, out of the Buddha'.
- 47. In Instrumental singular the final 'a' of the noun-stem becomes 'ena' as: Buddhena.

To the stems ending in i, f, u, and \bar{u} , '- $n\bar{a}$ ' is added. When it is added the final long vowel of the stem becomes short, e.g. muninā, senāninā, garunā, vidunā.

- 48. In Ablative singular the final 'a' of the stem becomes 'a' or '-sma' is added to the stem as: Buddhasma.
 To the stems ending in i, i, u, and u, the ending '-sma' instead of '-na' may be added. The final long vowel of the stem becomes short, e.g. munina, munisma, senanina, senanisma, garuna, garusma, viduna, vidusma.
- Note: '-smä' may become '-mhā' as: Buddhamhā, munimhā, senānimhā, garumhā, and vidumhā.
- 49. The plural of both the cases are formed by adding '-bhi' to the stem. When it is added the final 'a' of the stem becomes 'e' as: Buddhebhi. When '-bhi' is added the short final vowels 'i' and 'u' of other nouns become long as: munibhi, garūbhi.
- Note: '-bhi' may often become '-hi', e.g. Buddhehi, munihi, senānihi, garūhi, vidūhi.

Stem	Instrumental Singular	Ablative Singular	Instrumental and Ablative Plural
Buddha	Buddhena	Buddhā, Buddhasmā,	Buddhebhi, Buddhehi
muni	muninā	Buddhamhā, Buddhato muninā, munismā, munimhā	munibhi, munihi
senānī	senāninā	senāninā, senānismā, senānimhā	senānībhi, senānīhi
garu vidū	garunā vidunā	garunā, garusmā, garumhā vidunā, vidusmā, vidumhā	gar ū bhi, garūhi vidūbhi, vidūhi

Anomalous noun - 'go'

go gāvena, gavena gavā, gāvā, gavasmā, gāvebhi, gavebhi, gāvasmā, gavamhā, gāvamhā gāvehi, gavehi, gobhi, gohi

- 50. '-to' form. An alternative suffix '-to' may be added to any noun to give the sense of the Ablative case, e.g. Buddhato (from the Buddha), munito, senānito, garuto, viduto.
- 51. Saddhim, saha. Either of these two particles is added to a noun in the Instrumental case to give the sense of 'together with', e.g. Buddhena saddhim, Buddhena saha (together with the Buddha), garunā saddhim, garunā saha (together with the preceptor), Vidūhi saddhim, vidūhi saha (together with the wise men).
- 52. The particle 'vinā' (without) governs the Accusative, Instrumental and Ablative Cases, e.g. Buddham vinā, Buddhena vinā, Buddhamhā vinā (without the Buddha, apart from the Buddha).
- 53. Api, pi (also, even). As these two are enclitics, these always follow a word, e.g. so api, so pi (also he, even he). Pana, tu (but, as for) are also enclitics: So kt[ati aham pana (aham tu) pathāmi (he is playing but I am reading).
- 54. Vā (or). This particle follows a noun or a verb to express the sense 'either...or', e.g. So vā sā vā gacchatu (may either he or she go).

LESSON 15

55. Past Participle

Generally by adding the suffix 'ta' either to the root or to the verbal base the past participle is formed. Most often 'i' is inserted between the root or base and the suffix as: pat + i + ta = patita (fallen), des(e) + i + ta = desita (expounded). Some roots ending in 'd' or 'r' take the suffix 'na'. Bhid + na = bhinna (broken), kir + na = kinna (scattered).

If the root (or verb) is intransitive its past participle is active. bha + ta = bhata (been), pat + i + ta = patita (fallen). By adding '-vant' or '-avin' to these forms Active past participle of any verb is formed. See Lesson 21.

If the root or verb is transitive, its past participle formed by adding suffix 'ta' or 'na' is passive. han + ta = hata (killed), dese + i + ta = desita (expounded). chid + na = chinna (cut)

An active past participle agrees with the subject or agent in gender number and case: rukkho patito (the tree [was] fallen, or fallen tree).

56. A passive past participle agrees with the object in gender, number and case and its agent is placed in Instrumental Case. Migo dittho purisena (the deer was seen by the man, the deer seen by the man). Vyadhena hatam migam aham passami (I see the deer killed by the huntsman).

'patito' may be translated as 'fallen', 'has fallen' or 'had fallen'. Simillary 'hato' may be translated as 'killed', 'has been killed' or 'had been killed'. 57. The past participles of some verbs will be given below.

58. Some model sentences

(a) Puriso agato (the man came, the man has come, the man had come).

agato puriso (the man that came, that has come or that had come), here 'agato' is adjective qualifying 'puriso':

rukkho patito (the tree fell, the tree has fallen, the tree had fallen). patito rukkho (the fallen tree).

In these sentences 'agato' and 'patito' are active past participles.

Südena odano pacito, südena pacito odano (rice was cooked, has been cooked or had been cooked by the cook, the rice cooked by the cook).

-rukkhā chinnā purisehi, purisehi chinnā rukkhā, purisehi rukkhā chinnā (the trees were, have been or had been cut down by men, or trees cut down by men).

gämamha agatam purisam na passami (I do not see the man that has come from the village).

Buddhena desitam dhammam ugganhāma (we learn the Dhamma expounded by the Buddha).

So viharamha idhagato idani tahim sayati (he, having come here from the monastery, now lies down there, he came from the monastery and now lies down there).

(b) Thus the past participle acts the parts of the past participle, the present perfect tense, the past perfect tense, the gerund and also the adjective.

Note that it is declined like a noun (ending in 'a').

LESSON 16

Dative and Genitive Cases

59. In Dative singular the final a of the noun-stem is changed into āya and assa as well, thus building two forms: Buddhāya, Buddhassa (to or for the Buddha).

To stems ending in i, i, u and a, -no as well as -ssa are added:

Stem Dative singular

muni	munino, munissa (to or for the sage)
senānī	senānino, senānissa (to or for the general)
garu -	garuno, garussa (to or for the preceptor)
vidu	viduno, vidussa (to or for the wise man)
go	gavasa, gavassa (to or for the ox)

In Genitive singular only -ssa is added to the final a. The Genitive singular forms of other nouns are as the same as the Dative singulars.

Buddha	Buddhassa (of the Buddha, the Buddha's)
muni	munino, munissa (of the sage, the sage's) senäni	senānino, senānissa (of the general, the general's)
garu	garuno, garussa (of the preceptor, the preceptor's)
vidü	viduno, vidussa (of the wise man, the wise man's)

The anomalous noun go has two forms as gavassa, gāvassa.

Dative and Genitive plurals

To form the Dative and Genitive plurals -nam is added to all these noun-stems and before this ending the final vowel of all the nouns becomes long.

Noun-stem Dative and Genitive plurals

Buddha	Buddhanam (to or for the Buddhas, of the Buddhas)
muni	muninam (to or for the sages, of the sages)
senäni	senantnam (to or for the generals, of the generals)
garu	garūnam (to or for the preceptors, of the preceptors)
vidū	vidunam (to or for the wise men, of the wise men)
80	gavam, gunnam, gonam (to or for the oxen, of the oxen)

Note: The special dative singular form of nouns ending in 'a' like Buddha is 'Buddha'

60. The use of dative and genitive cases. Dative answers to the questions 'to whom, to what, for whom, for what as Buddhäya, Buddhassa (to the Buddha, for the Buddha), Genitive answers the questions 'whose', 'of whom or of what?' Thus Buddhassa (the Buddha's, of the Buddha). This case especially expresses the owner or possessor.

Dative answers to the questions 'to whom, to which or for which something is given or done'. So yācakassa āhāram deti (he gives food to the beggar). Te yācakānam āhāram denti (they give food to the beggars). Generally Dative is used as indirect object in English. 'He gives the man food or he gives food to the man'. In this sentence 'food' is the direct object of the verb 'gives' and 'the man' or 'to the man' is indirect object. In Pali, direct object is expressed by Accusative Case and the indirect object by Dative Case. Let us translate this sentence into Pali and it should come thus: so purisassa āhāram deti. Here 'purisassa' is Dative or indirect object and 'āhāram' is Accusative or direct object.

Genitive is similar to possessive in English grammar. It expresses possession or relationship. Buddhassa sāvako (the Buddha's disciple), bhūpassa pāsādo (the king's palace), rukkhassa khandho (the trunk of

LESSON 17

Locative Case

61. The Locative Case answers the questions 'where, in whom, in what, on whom, on what', and 'among whom?'

To form the Locative Singular, '-smin' or '-mhi' is added to all masculine nouns. A long vowel becomes short before these case-endings.

N.B. Noun-stems ending in 'a' have a special form in Locative Singular, in which the final 'a' of the stem becomes 'e' as; Buddhe.

Locative Singular forms

62. To form the Locative Plural, 'su' is added to all nouns. Before 'su' the final 'a' of the stem becomes 'e' as: Buddhesu. Other short vowels become long, or optionally may remain short before 'su' as: munisu, munisu, senāntsu, garusu, garūsu, vidūsu.

LESSON 18

Neuter Nouns

63. Nominative, Vocative and Accusative of Neuter nouns.

To the noun-stems ending in 'a', 'm' is added to form their Nominative Singular. Thus the stem 'phala' (fruit) becomes 'phalam' in the Nominative singular.

Noun stems ending in other vowels, i, r, u and \bar{u} , remain unchanged. Nouns ending in r, and \bar{u} , are very rare. There are some adjectives ending in 't' and 'u' which play the part of nouns as: sudht, gotrabh \bar{u} .

In the Vocative Singular the short final vowel of the stem remains unchanged and a long vowel is shortened as: phala, authi, sudhi, cakkhu, gotrabhu.

In the Accusative Singular 'm' is added to every stem, and a long vowel is shortened before 'm' as: phalam, anthim, sudhim, cakkhum, gotrabhum.

Stem	Nominative	Vocative	Accusative
	Singular	Singular	Singular

There are two nominative plurals. In one the short vowel becomes long and the long vowel remains unchanged. In the other '-ni' is added to all those forms as: phalā, phalāni, ațţhīni, sudhī, sudhīni, cakkhū, cakkhūni, gotrabhū, gotrabhūni.

- 65. Vocative plural is the same as the Nominative plural (of all nouns).
- 66. In Accusative plural, the final 'a' of the stem becomes 'e', in one form and the other form is the same as the nominative plural as: phale, phalani. The Accusative plural of the stems ending in all other vowels is the same as their nominative plural, e.g. atthr, atthini, sudht, sudhtni, gotrabhū, gotrabhūni.

Stem	Nominative and Vocative Plural	Accusative Plural

LESSON 19

Feminine Nouns

67. Feminine noun-stems end in ā, i, t, u, and ū. Examples: kafifiā (girl), ratti (night), nadī (river), yāgu (gruel), vadhū (woman).

Nominative Case: In Nominative Singular all these nouns remain unchanged.

In Vocative Singular the final ' \bar{a} ' of the stem is changed into 'e' as kañāe. But there are exceptions as: 'amma' (Vocative Singular of 'ammā', mother). The final long vowels become short in Vocative Singular, e.gl. nadi, vadhu.

In Accusative Singular 'm' is added to all stems and before it the long vowel becomes short: kannam, rattim, nadim, yagum, vadhum.

68. Nominative, Vocative and Accusative plurals.

There are two plural forms, in one the final vowel becomes long, and in the other '-yo' is added to the stem. Before the ending -yo long f and \bar{u} become short: ratti, rattiyo, nadī, nadiyo, yāgū, yāguyo, vadhū, vadhītyo, kanīnā, kanīnāyo.

Stem	nominativ	e vocative Singulars	e accusative	nom., voc., acc., Plurais

vadhū (woman)	vadhū	vadhu	vadhuṃ	vadhū, vadhuyo

69. Formation of Feminine Gender

In feminine gender the final 'a' of some nouns and adjectives becomes 'a', and some of others it becomes 't'. In a very few nouns the final 'a' or 'i' of the stem becomes '-ant' as: mātula (uncle); mātulānī (aunt); gahapati (householder); gahapatāni (housewife). The final '-aka' of a noun becomes 'ika' in feminine.

LESSON 20

Feminine Nouns

70. Instrumental and other Cases

In the Singular form of the Instrumental, Ablative, Dative and Genitive cases, '-ya' is added to the feminine noun-stems ending in 'a', e.g. kafihaya.

- 71. In all the same cases '-yā' is added to feminine stems ending in i, i, u and a, and the long i and a become short before 'yā' as: rattiyā, nadiyā, yāguyā, vadhuyā.
- 72. In Locative Singular, '-yā' or 'yam' is added to noun-stems ending in ā as: kafifiāya, kafifiāyam.
- 73. In the same way, in the Locative Singular, 'yā' or 'yam' is added to the noun-stems ending in i, i, u and ū. i and ū become short before 'yā' and 'yam', e.g. rattiyā, rattiyam, nadiyā, nadiyam, yāguyā, yāguyam, vadhuyā, vadhuyā, vadhuyam.
- 74. To form Instrumental and Ablative Plurals '-bhi' or '-hi' is added to all feminine nouns. Before them the short vowel becomes long: kaññābhi, kaññāhi, rattībhi, rattībi, nadībhi, nadībi, yāgūbhi, yāgūhi, vadhūbhi, vadhūhi.

To form Dative and Genitive plurals 'nam' is added to all feminine noun-stems. The short vowel becomes long before 'nam': kannänam, rattinam, nadinam, yägünam, vadhünam.

To form Locative Plural '-su' is added to all feminine noun-stems. Before 'su' short vowels may become long optionally: kafināsu, rattisu, rattīsu, nadīsu, yāgusu, yāgūsu, vadhūsu.

- N.B. Rattiva and rattiyam have their contracted forms as 'ratya, ratyam'. Similarly nadiya and nadiyam have the contracted forms as 'naija' and 'najjam'; jātiyā also becomes 'jaccā'.
- 75. 'eva' is an enclitic particle which is used to emphasise the sense of the preceding word: so eva (he himself)

'ce' (if). This particle never begins a sentence and always follows a word: so ce (if he....)

Sometimes 'kho' or 'kho pana' are used to give the sense 'indeed. certainly'. At times it is used to express something important, or a thing that happens anew or strangely.

LESSON 21

Consonantals

76. Possessive Adjectives are formed by adding '-vant', '-mant' or '-in' to nouns. 'vant' is added to noun-stems ending in 'a' or 'a' and 'mant' to the stems ending in other vowels as i, I, u, u, or o. '-in' is added to stems ending in 'a'.

Noun-stem	Factor	Possessive Adjectives
dhana (wealth, riches)	-vant	dhanavant (wealthy, rich)
bala (power)	. #	balavant (powerful)
stla (virtue, precept)	Ħ	stlavant (virtuous, keeping precepts
sati (mindfulness, memory)	-mant	satimant (mindful)
dhiti (courage)		dhitimant (courageous)
dht (intelligence)		dhimant (intelligent, wise)
bhānu (rays)	Ħ	bhānumant (radiant, having rays)
go (cattle)	"	gomant (possessing cattle)
dhana (wealth)	-in	dhanin (wealthy)
bala (power, strength)		balin (powerful, strong)

Declension

- 77. All these adjectives are used also as nouns. Thus 'dhanavant' even means 'a rich man' when there is no noun for it to modify.
- 78. All such substantives ending in 'ant' have two stems, one ending in 'ant' and the other in 'at'. Thus 'dhanavant' has two forms, 'dhanavant' and 'dhanavat'. Similarly 'satimant' has two forms 'satimant' and 'satimat'.

Those ending in 'ant' are declined mostly like nouns ending in 'a' in Masculine and Neuter genders in all cases. Except Vocative Singular.

Example:

stem dhanavant (masculine gender)

	Singular	Plural
Nom.	dhanavanto	dhanavantā
Voc.	–	dhanavantā
Acc.	dhanavantam	dhanavante
Instr.	dhanavantena	dhanavantehi (-bhi)

Dat. & Gen.	dhanavantassa	dhanavantānam
Loc.	(dhanavante,	dhanavantesu
	{ dhanavantasmim,
	dhanavantasmim, dhanavantamhi	•

79. The stems ending in 'at' are declined only in Nominative, Vocative, Instrumental and Ablative Singular, in Dative and Genitive both Singular and Plural and Locative Singular. 'at' becomes 'a' in Nominative Singular and in Nominative Plural '-anto'.

In Vocative Singular 'at' becomes 'am, a, or \bar{a} ', plural is the same as of the Nominative. In other cases they take the following case-endings.

	Singular	Plural
Nom.Acc.Voc.	~	**
Inst. & Abl.	-ā

Thus when 'dhanavant' is declined, it takes all the forms as follows:

- 80. The noun 'Bhagavant' (Lord Buddha) is declined like 'dhanavant'. All substantives ending in '-mant' are also declined like 'dhanavant' as: Nom. Singular: satimā, cakkhumā, gomā, etc., Nom. Plural: satimanto, satimantā, etc. Active Past Participles ending in '-tavant' are also declined like these vant-nouns.
- All Substantives ending in '-in' are declined like masculine I-nouns as: 'senant'. Active Past Participles ending in '-tavin' are declined like I-nouns.

LESSON 22

Present Participles

84. The Active Present Participles are formed by adding '-nt' or '-māna' to the verbal base. The suffix '-āna' is also added sometimes.

If the verbal base ends in 'e' it is changed to 'aya' before 'mana, ana'. Long a of the base is shortened before these suffixes;

85.	Verbs

Base

e

Present Participle (Active forms)

gacchati (goes)	gaccha	gacchant, gacchamāna, gacchāna
vadati (says)	vada	vadant, vadamāna, vadāna
dadāti (gives)	dadā (dada)	dadant, dadamäna, dadāna
kiņāti (buys)	kinā (kiņa)	kiņant, kiņamāna, kiņāna
deseti (expounds)	dese	desent, desayamāna, desayāna

86. If the base is monosyllabic it may remain unchanged:

seti (lies down)	se	sent, semāna
sayati (lies down)	saya	sayant, sayamāna, sayāna

Irregular forms

- 87. atthi (is) as sant, samāna (Present P.) karoti (makes, does, works) karo karont, karumāna, karāna (Present P.)
- 88. The present participles are declinable. They are of the nature of adjectives. Therefore they agree with the noun or pronoun they go with in gender, number and case. Sometimes a present participle may act the part of a noun in a sentence. Thus it belongs to the category of nouns. Except in Nominative Singular in all other forms the present participles ending in -nt are declined similar to substantives ending in -vant.

gacchant (going)

Nom.	gaccham, gacchanto	gacchanto, gacchantă
Voc.	gaccham, gaccha, gacchā	gacchanto, gacchantă
Acc.	gacchantam	gacchante

Dat. & Gen.	gacchantassa (gacchato)	gacchantanam, gacchatam
	gacchante, gacchantasmim, gacchantamhi (gacchati)	gacchantesu

(The special forms are within brackets.)

89. In Neuter Gender:

Nom.	gaccham	gacchantā, gacchantāni
Voc.	gaccham	gacchantā, gacchantāni
Acc.	gacchantam	gacchante, gacchantāni

The rest are like those in the Masculine Gender.

Those ending in '-māna' or '-āna' are declined like nouns ending in 'a' in masculine and neuter genders, and like '-ā'-nouns in feminine gender.

90. The Feminine Forms of '-nt' participles.

In the feminine gender the '-nt' part is changed into 'ntt' or 'tt' as: gacchant, gacchant. These are declined like feminine nouns ending in 't'. See 'nadt' in Lessons 19 and 20.

91. The present participle is used to express contemporaneity of an action and indicates the sense 'while' or 'whilst' in English.

So sallapanto hasati, so sallapamāno hasati (while talking, he laughs). Sā sallapantī hasati, sallapamānā hasati (while talking, she laughs).

- 92. Sometimes a present participle is used as a noun. E.g. Na samano hoti param vihethayanto (one who hurts another is not a recluse). The present participle is also used as an adjective. E.g. Dhammam anussaram bhikkhu saddhammā na parihāyati (the monk who calls to mind the teaching does not fall away from the True Doctrine).
- 93. Sometimes the idea 'should one' or 'if one should' is also expressed by the present participle, e.g. Akarkhamano Ananda Tathagato kappan va tittheyya kappāvasesam vā (should the Tathagata wish it, O Ananda, he could remain for a kalpa or that portion of a kalpa which had yet to stand).

Loc.	nattari	nattāresu, nattūsu, nattusu

Most nouns ending in '-tar' except pitar (father), bhātar (brother), mātar (mother), and duhitar, dhītar (daughter), are declined like 'nattar'.

pitar (father)			måtar (mother)
Case	Singular	Plural	Singular	Piural
Nom.	pitā	pitaro	mātā	mātaro
Voc.	pita, pitā	pitaro	māta, mātā	mātaro

- Note: By adding '-tar' to the roots or to the present verbal bases their agent nouns are formed. When '-tar' is added the final 'a' of the verbal base becomes 'i'. The final 'e' of the base and also the final 'a' of mono-syllable root are not changed. These agent nouns may act the part of adjectives, too.
- 96. Genitive Absolute. Both the subject (agent) and the participle are put in the Genitive Case, this construction is called 'Genitive Absolute'. This is used to express an action done regardless of another's opposition or feelings, e.g. Puttassa rudamānassa (rudantassa) mātā gehamhā nikkhami (the mother departed from the house while the child was crying i.e. regardless of the child's cry).
- 97. Locative Absolute. Both the subject and the participle are put in the Locative case, which is called 'Locative Absolute'. When this construction is translated into English, the relative adverb 'when' or 'while' shoud begin the clause, e.g. Rukkhamhi patante sakuna uddesum (when or while the tree was falling down the birds flew up). Pitari mate duhita samtpe nisinna parodi (when the father died the daughter sat close by and wept).

Kassakehi kherte katthe (kasite) gahapatino sevakā āgantvā tilehi' vapimsu (when the field was ploughed by the farmers the servants of the householder came and sowed sesame).

When translating Locative Absolute Nominative Absolute may be used. Vutthiyam patantiyam te geham pavisimsu (rain falling, they entered the house or when rain was falling they entered the house).

^{&#}x27;Read Syntax: Instrumental case,

Sati. 'Sati' is the Locative Singular of the Present Participle (masculine) 'sant' (being). Its negative form is 'asati'. Both these forms are used in the Locative Absolute construction commonly (regardless of number and gender): Jātiyā sati jarā-maranam hoti (when there is birth there is decay and death).

 Yo appaduithassa narassa dussati...tam eva bālam pacceti pāpam (whosoever offends against a harmless one, the evil rebounds upon the very foolish fellow).

115. Indefinite pronoun

Indefinite pronoun is formed by adding the particle ci, cana, api or pi to the declined form of the Interrogative pronoun 'kim' (ka).

	Singular	Plural
Nom.	koci, kopi, kocana (some one)	keci, kepi, kecana (some ones)

- 117. In Feminine gender: kāci, kācana, kāpi (in Nom. Sing.); kāci, kāpi, etc. (in Nom. Plur.); kāyaci, kāyacana, kāyapi (in Inst. Sing.), etc.

118. Phonetic Combinations

(b) m (c) m	before a guttural letter becomes before a palatal letter becomes before a letter of back palate becomes before a dental letter becomes before a labial letter becomes	guttural nasal n . palatal nasal n . back palate nasal n . dental nasal n . labial nasal m .

- (b) kam + ci = kanci
- (c) sam + thāti = samthāti
- (d) sam + titthati = santitthati
- (e) kam + pi = kampi

119. Iti. The particle 'iti' is placed after a statement quoted or thought out and stands in the place of or instead of inverted commas in English. It involves the senses of 'thinking, considering, supposing, knowing, saying, or calling'.

Examples:

Bhagavā bhikkhū āmantesi 'bhikkhavo' ti (The Lord addressed the monks saying 'O monks').

Tam janna vasalo iti (one should know him 'an outcast').

Bhagava bhikkhu amantesi 'Anujanami bhikkhave araman' ti (the Lord addressed the monks saying "I allow you, monks, to accept a grove"). Bhavampi no' Gotamo 'anuttaram sammasambodhim abhisambuddho' ti patijanati? (Does Master Gotama also claim "I have attained to the Supreme Enlightenment"?)

Khattiyam 'daharo' ti nāvamafineyya (one should not despise a princely youth thinking 'This is a boy').

120. Pronominal Adverbs

Miscellaneous Adverbs

sabbadā, sadā (ever, for ever, every day) sabbatiha (everywhere) sabbathā (in every way) sabbaso (by every means, altogether)

121. Articles

There are no particular articles in Pali that correspond to English articles 'a, an' and 'the'. Therefore 'puriso' may mean either 'a man' or 'the man'. The Demonstrative pronominals 'tad' (that), 'ima' (this), 'etat' (this), may occasionally be used in the sense of the Definite Article 'the': so puriso, ayam puriso, eso puriso (the man).

The sense of Indefinite article is supplied by the pronoun 'kiñci' or the pronouns such as 'eka, ekacca' (a, certain).

Eko puriso, ekacco puriso (a certain man, a man); eke, ekacce purisa (certain men, men).

122. 'Yad' repeated means 'whatever': yo yo puriso (whatever man), ya ya itthi (whatever woman), yam yam phalam (whatever fruit).
'Tad' repeated means 'this and that' or 'all that'. The particle 'eva' follows them to give emphasis. yam yadeva (yam yam eva) = whatever

123. Euphonic combinations

- (a) The final m of the neuter forms of 'yam', 'tam' and 'etam' followed by a vowel is changed into 'd' very often.
 yam idam = yadidam; tam eva = tadeva; etam avoca = etadavoca.
- (b) m + y are optionally changed into nn. tam yeva = tanneva; yam yam eva = yannadeva
- (c) "Añño aññam" becomes aññamaññam (one another, each other).

LESSON 28

Past Tense

128. There are three kinds of past verbs in Pali, namely, Ajjatant (Definite past), Hiyattant (Indefinite Past) and Parokkha (Past Perfect). Ajjatant was formerly used to express the recent past and the Hyattant the imperfect Past. But long ago they lost this difference and Ajjatant (the simple past) began to be used in prose (to express past in prose most frequently) and the other one mostly in verse. Parokkha (Indefinite past) was used only in much later Pali works as Bodhivansa, Hattha-vanagalla-vihara-vansa and such other works. So far the verbs of Aorist tense have been taught in this course. Now here will be given the forms of the verb Hyattant (Past Definite).

Termination

,	Singular	Plural
1st pers.	am, a	mhā
2nd pers.	o	ttha
3rd pers.	a	₽

Examples:

Root: vad (to say)

	Singular	Plural
1st pers.	avadam, avada (I said)	avadamhā (We said)
2nd pers.	avado (You said)	avadattha (You said)
3rd pers.	avadā (He said)	avadū (They said)

- 129. Use of some words
- (a) adhikaranam. When this word is compounded with a noun, it offers the sense "because of", "by reason of", or "through".
 E.g. pamādādhikaranam (pamāda-adhikaranam) (because of negligence, through negligence, due to carelessness).
- (b) pațibhāti (comes to mind). This verb governs the Accusative Case. E.g. Pațibhātu tam dhammīkathā (let there occur to you a religious discourse).
- (c) Duration of time is expressed either by Accusative or Instrumental Case. E.g. Ekam samayam (at one time), tena samayena (at that time).

(d) yena-tena, yena tam (wherever - there).
 E.g. Yena Bhagavā tenupasankami (he went there where the Lord was i.e. he went to the Lord).
 Atha kho Bhagavā yena Kotigāmo tadavasari (tam avasarī) (then the Lord went down to where the Koțigāma was i.e. the Lord proceeded to Koțigāma).

(e) namo and alam. The indeclinables 'namo' and 'alam' govern Dative. Case.

E.g. Namo tassa Bhagavato (may my adoration be to the Lord). Alam antaravaya (adequate to be an obstacle).

'Alam' is used even with infinitive: Alam katum (proper to do).

'Alam' is used even in the sense of 'enough of'. Then it governs Instrumental case: Alam ettakena (enough of this much, this much is enough).

130. To have. There is no Pali equivalent for the English verb 'have', therefore a construction with a noun or pronoun in genitive case and a verb implying 'to be' may be used to express this sense, e.g. Putta me atthi (of me, there are sons i.e. I have sons). Mama vijjati sahāyako (of me, there is a friend i.e. I have a friend).

Three degrees of adjectives

131. The suffixes -tara and -tama are generally added to any kind of adjective to form its comparative and superlative forms respectively.

Positive abhirūpa (beautiful)	Comparative abhirūpatara (more beautiful)	Superlative abhirupatama (most beautiful)
pāpa (wicked, sinful) dhanavant (rich) mahant (great)		pāpatama (most wicked) dhanavantatama (richest) mahantatama (greatest)

Note: substantives ending in -nt take 'a' before 'tara' and 'tama'.

132. Some comparatives and superlatives are formed by adding -iya -issika and -iiiha respectively, e.g. pāpa (wicked); pāpiya, pāpissika (more wicked); pāpitha (most wicked).

Some irregular forms:

vuddha (old)	jeyya (elder)	jețțha (eldest)
pasattha	seyya	sețiha
(praiseworthy)	(more praiseworthy)	(most praiseworthy)
yuvan (young)	kaņiya (younger)	kanittha (youngest)

133. The adjectives of comparative degree are used mostly with nouns in Instrumental or Ablative case and the superlatives are used with nouns either in Genitive or Locative plural. Taya mahiddhikataro (more powerful than you).

Tesam sattamo, tesu sattamo (best of them, best among them).

134. Euphonic Combinations

I or e followed by a dissimilar vowel is changed into y and combined with the succeeding vowel, e.g. pati + antam = patyantam. Ty is always changed into cc: patyantam = paccantam. te + ajja = tyajja. u or o followed by a dissimilar vowel is optionally changed into v and is combined with the succeeding vowel, e.g. na tu + eva = na tv + eva = natveva. so kho dyasmā = so khv + dyasmā = sokhvāyasmā.

135. There are twenty Prefixes: abhi, adhi, anu, apa, api, ati, ava, ā, du(s), ni, nis(ni), pa, parā, pari, pati, sam, su, ud, upa, vi. There are prefixed to verbs, participles, gerunds, infinitives, nouns and adjectives. They emphasize or alter the sense of the words to which they are prefixed.

136. Euphonic combinations

- (a) The first consonant of some words is reduplicated when it is preceded by a vowel. Mostly this occurs, if the corresponding vedic form consists of two consonants (as kr, pr. bhr, etc.), to give the same force to the corresponding Pali sound (letter). abhi + kanta = abhikkanta (Vedic: abhikrānta) anu + gaha = anuggaha (Vedic: anugraha) pari + bhama = paribbhama (Vedic: paribhrama) abhi + pasanna = abhippasanna (Vedic: abhiprasanna)
- (b) The 's(r)' of 'dus(dur)', 'nis(nir)' and 'd' of 'ud' are assimilated to the succeeding consonant. nirgacchati = niggacchati; durjana = dujjana; udgacchati = uggacchati sc becomes cch: nis + carati = niccharati.
- (c) rv becomes bb: nir + vāna = nibbāna
 v after pa becomes bb: pa + vajati = pabbajati (Vedic:pravrajati)
- (d) As regards the change of m read lesson 26.
 sam + gacchati = sangacchati sam + carati = sancarati sam + thahati = santhahati sam + tussati = santussati sam + pajjati = sampajjati
- (e) 'i' followed by a dissimilar vowel is changed into 'y' (See Lesson 28 No. 12). bhy, dhy, ty are changed into bbh, jjh and cc respectively.
 abhi + uggato = abhyuggato = abbhuggato adhi + eti = adhyeti = ajjheti pati + agacchati = patyāgacchati = paccāgacchati.
- (f) t of pati is optionally changed into t: patigacchati = patigacchati. The prefix sam becomes sa before rajjati, ratta and raga. sam + rajjati = sārajjati; sam + ratta = sāratta, sam + rāga = sārāga.

Compounds - Samāsa

137. Two or more words combined together to form a single term are called a compound (samāsa). There are several varieties of compounds in Pali. Of the first variety, the first member is generally an adjective and the second one is a noun. Crude forms (stems) are combined and the last member is declined according to its own gender.

Setam uppalam (white lotus). Here are two words 'setam' and 'uppalam'. When we compound them we drop off their case endings and bring them back to their former crude forms (stems) thus: seta-uppala.

When two vowels meet, if the first vowel is 'a', it is dropped most often. Thus the final vowel 'a' of 'seta' is dropped and the remaining consonant 't' is combined with the succeeding vowel.

Seta + uppala = set + uppala = setuppala. 'Uppala' is a neuter noun. Therefore the compounded form 'setuppala' is to be declined in neuter gender.

- 138. Both the noun and the apposition to the same noun are also compounded.
 Anondo thero = Anandatthera (the Elder Ananda)
 [Ananda + thera = Anandatthera]
 Sumedho tāpaso = Sumedha-tāpasa (the ascetic Sumedha)
- 139. If a person or thing is compared with any other thing the word in comparison stands as the last member of the compound. Osadham viya dhammo = dhammosadham (the Dhamma like a medicine, the medicine of Dhamma)
 [dhamma + osadha = dhammosadha]
 Aggi viya rāgo = rāgaggi [rāga + aggi] (the firelike lust, fire of lust)
- 140. When the particle na (not) is compounded as the first member, it is changed into 'a' before a consonant and into 'an' before a vowel. na karanam = akarana (not doing); na + āgamo = anāgamo (not coming) na kusalam = akusala (not i.e. opposite to kusala) na āgamanam = anāgamana (not coming)

- 141. The adjective 'mahant' becomes 'maha' when it stands as the first member of the compound.
 mahanto viro = maha-vira (a great hero)
- 142. A noun in an oblique case depending on the following member is compounded. The second member may be a noun, adjective, or a past participle.

Before compounding	compounded	meaning
gāmaņ gato	gāma-gata	gone to the village
Buddhena desito	Buddha-desita	expounded by the Buddha
cīvarāya dussaņ	ctvara-dussa	cloth for a monk's robe
corasmā bhayaņ	cora-bhaya	danger from a robber
rahho putto	rāja-putta	the king's son
vikāle bhojanaņ	vikāla-bhojana	eating at improper time
attanā kataņ	atta-kata	done by oneself
pituno santakaņ	pitu-santaka	belonging to the father

- Note: The final n of consonantals like rajan, attan and dandin is dropped when they are compounded, and ar of the ar-nouns like pitar, becomes u: pituno dhanam = pitu-dhana
- 143. Two words related by the particle 'iti' or the gerund 'hurva' (having been) are also compounded and the words 'iti' etc. are dropped. aniccam iti saññā = anicca-saññā (the perception 'impermanence') ārammaŋam hutvā paccayo = ārammaŋa-paccaya (the relation being the object of mind)
- 144. Two or more substantives conjoined by 'ca' (and) are compounded and the conjunction 'ca' (and) is dropped. cando ca suriyo ca = canda-suriya (moon and sun)

As many beings are implied by this compound, the words thus formed are declined in plural number as: canda-suriyā, canda-suriye, candasuriyehi, canda-suriyānam, etc.

But if the collective sense is implied, they are declined in neuter singular as: nacca-glta-vāditam, nacca-glta-vāditena, etc.

145. Some terms formed by compounding two or more words are used attributively, modifying some other person or thing and are used as adjectives. This compound is equivalent to the relative clause in English.

Before compounding	compound	meaning
agatā samaņā yam so	agatasamana	that to which the recluses have come
katam pāpam yena so	katapāpa	one by whom is evil done
natthi kiñcanam yassa so	akiñcana 、	one who has no obstacles, one who has no possessions
sukhito attä yassa so	sukhitatta	happy-minded
bilam āsayo yassa so	bilāsaya	he whose lair is a hole

Note: The suffix -ka is added most often to the kind of this compound. E.g. Baha nadiyo yasmim so bahunadiko (the district in which there are many rivers)

- 146. In the sense 'together with', 'sa' is prefixed in forming this kind of compound. Saha devehi yo vattati so sadevako (that which is together with Devas is "sadevaka" [including Devas]).
- 147. The Infinitive ending in -tum stands as the first member of some compounds and the final m of -tum is dropped. gantum kāmoti gantu-kāmo (one who wishes to go is "gantu-kāma".)

Declensions

- 149. eka is declined like the pronoun ya(d). See Lesson 26.
- 150. From dvi up to attharasa, all cardinals are declined only in plural number. From ekanavtsati up to navuti all cardinals are declined only in Feminine gender, singular number.

Dvi (two)

The declension of dvi is alike in all the three genders.

Nom. Voc. Acc.	dve (two)
Ins. Abl.	dvihi, dvibhi
Dat. Gen.	dvinnam
Loc.	dvīsu

Pañca (five) (Alike in all the three genders)

Nom. Voc. Acc.	pafica
Ins. Abl.	pañcahi, pañcabhi
Dat. Gen.	pañcannam
Loc.	pañcasu

151. 'Cha'(6), 'satta'(7) and all other cardinals up to 'attharasa'(18) are declined like parica in plural in all the three genders.

Cardinals are used also as adjectives. Eko puriso (one man), Ekä itthi (one woman) Ekam kulam (one family) Ekassa purisassa (to or of one man) Ekäya itthiyä (to or of one woman) Ekassa kulassa (to or of one family) Dve purisā (two men), Dve itthiyo (two women) Dve kulāni (two families) Tayo purisa (three men), Tisso itthiyo (three women) Tini kulāni (three families) Dvinnam purisānam (to or of two men) Dvinnam itthinam (to or of two women) Dvinnam kulānam (to or of two families) Cattāro purisā (four men), Catasso itthiyo (four women) Cattāri kulāni (four families) Catunnam purisānam (to or of four men) Catassannam itthinam (to or of four women) Catumnam Kulānam (to or of four families) Satam manussā (a hundred men) Satassa manussānam (to or of hundred men)

Sahassam manussä (a thousand men) Sahassassa manussänam (to or of thousand men)

152. Sata and sahassa are declined in neuter. koți and pakoți are declined in feminine gender (like 'ratti'). Those ending in ā like vīsā, timsā, etc. are declined like Feminine nouns ending in ā, but only in singular number.

153. Numeral adverbs

ekadhā (in one way), dvidhā (in two ways, into two parts or divisions)tidhā (in three ways, into three parts or divisions)catudhā, catuddhā (in four ways, into four parts or divisions)ekaso (one by one)paācaso (five by five)ekakkhattum (one time)paācakkhattum (five times)dvikkhattum (twice)chakkhattum (six times)tikkhattum (thrice)sattakkhattum (seven times)catukkhattum (four times)sattaso (seven by seven)

154. Numeral compounds

A numeral (cardinal) as the first member may be compounded with a noun. If it is considered as a collection, the last member of the compound takes singular case-endings of neuter gender, otherwise it takes plural case-endings of the gender it belongs to.

before compounded

meaning

tayo lokā cattāri saccāni tilokam catusaccam

three worlds four truths

But

tayo janä pañca khandhä attha ariya ti-janā pañcakkhandhā atthāriyā

three persons five aggregates eight Holy ones

Note: The final 's' of catu(s) (4) is either dropped or joined with the succeeding 's' or assimilated to the following consonant: catusaccam, catussaccam, catukhattum.

- 155. Verbal root as the last member.
- (a) Sometimes a verbal root forms the last member of a compound. If the root ends in a consonant, it takes the vowel 'a' as its final letter. In some forms the radical vowel is strengthened.² Note: The final 'n' of consonantals is dropped when they are compounded.

kamma(n) + kar + a = kammakara, kammakara (workman) pana + har + a = panahara (that which takes away life) atta(n) + bhar + a = attabhara (optionally 'attambhara') (one whospports oneself)

- (b) The roots ending in i, t, u or û remain unchanged when they are the last members of compounds.
 mâra + ji = mâraji (conqueror of Mara) senâ + nt = senânt (leader of an army)
 mâra + abhibhû = mârâbhibbhû (one who subjugates Maras)
- (c) The long ā of a root is shortened when it stands as the last member. majja + pā = majjapa (one who drinks liquer) M of the root gam is optionally dropped, otherwise it takes the suffix '-a'. pāram + gam = pāraga (gone to the further shore) Optionally the final 'a' of ga becomes ā: pāragā (one who is gone to the further shore).

But,

Pubbam + gam = pubbangama (going ahead, prime-mover) The root fill becomes fill. sabbam + fill = sabbafifill (all-knowing) maggam + fill = maggafifill (knower of the path) The root 'jan' (to produce) loses final 'n'. kamma(n) + jan = kammaja (produced by Karma)

²'A' becomes \bar{a} , i becomes e and u becomes o. This is called strengthenining (vuddhi) of vowels in Pali.

^{&#}x27;This variety of compounds belong to the group of compounds called Dependment Determinative compound. See Lesson 29 No. 142.

- (d) The verbal derivatives as kāma, kārin, cārin, dassin, vāsin, etc. stand as the last members, sukha-kāma (one who desires comfort) pāpa-kārin (one who commits evils) bramha-cārin (one who lives higher life or a celibate life) dhamma-dassin (one who sees dhamma) gāma-vāsin (one who sees dhamma) sacca-gavesin (one who seeks after truth)
- 156. Some compounded words form adverbs. The member is either a prefix or an indeclinable particle. This kind of compounded word is always put in the neuter accusative singular.'
 adhi + attan = ajjhatta. ajjhattan (within one's own self) upa + nagara = upanagaran (near the city) yathā + kamma(n) = yathākamma. yathākamman (according to the karma) yathā + bhūta = yathābhūtan (according to what has been) pati + aha = paccaha. paccahan (daily) yāva(d) + jīva = yāvajjīva, yāvajīva. yāvajīvan (as long as one lives)
 yāva(d) + attha = yaurāpa. anurāpan (according to the form, conformably)
- 157. yāva(d) (up to, as long as, until, as far as). This particle governs Accusative or Ablative.
 E.g. yāva temāsam (as long as three months, for three months) yāva bramha-lokā (as far as the world of Brahmas) yāva kesaggam (up to the tip of hair)
- 158. Clauses beginning with 'yāva'.
 When the particle 'yāva' begins one clause, the particle 'tāva' begins the next related clause or it may be understood.
 E.g. Tāva ayyo ägametu yāva ayam puriso pāntyam pivissati (may the gentleman wait until this man drinks some water).

^{&#}x27;This kind is called 'Adverbial Compound'.

159. -na as expletive. Sometimes the expletive -na is added to Gerund: katvāna (having done), gantvāna (having gone).

-se as expletive. The expletive -se is added both to substantives and sometimes to verbs also.

E.g. Aviham upapannāse (they have been born into the realm Aviha). S I 60.

Tasmā evam vademase (so let's say thus). D. Ātānātiya sutta.

- 160. Sama, sadisa and the like govern Instrumental Case. E.g. Buddhena samo, Buddhena sadiso (similar to the Buddha)
- 161. Matta is compounded as the last member to give the sense 'about'. E.g. Sahassa-mattā janā (about 1000 men)

162. Phonetic combinations

- (a) When two dissimilar vowels meet, the preceding one is often dropped and the remaining consonant is combined with the succeeding vowel.
 E.g. Yassa ete = yassete, ekassa ca eko = ekassa ceko, catûhî apāyehi = catûhapāyehi, ca etam = cetam, sangāmaji uttamo = sangāmajuttamo, nistdi ambavane = nisīdambavane
- (b) Two similar vowels form into their corresponding long one.
 E.g. duve eva = duveva, cha ca abhithänāni = cha cābhithānāni, na abhavissa = nābhavissa
- (c) I of iti after a vowel is often dropped and it is marked by an apostrophe. In this case if the preceding vowel is a short one it becomes long. E.g. pajahatha iti = pajahathā'ti
- (d) When two similar vowels meet, the first one is seldom dropped.
 E.g. hi idam = hidam
- (e) Sometimes y is augmented before a vowel.
 E.g. na idam = nayidam, pari esati = pariyesati, sa eva = sa yeva
- (f) In some words t is changed into dh. E.g. anto gata = antogadha
- (g) A consonant is reduplicated after a vowel.
 E.g. a flata = aftflata, na pamajjati = nappamajjati, nāma khandha = nāmakkhandha, rūpa khandha = rūpakkhandha, citta khaņa = cittakkhana, vi pamutta = vippamutta, kāla pavedanā = kālappavedanā

LESSON 31

Causative

163. The causative base is formed by adding one of the four affixes -e, -aya, -āpe and -āpaya either to the root or to the present verbal base. The causative thus formed is conjugated throughout all the tenses and moods. The roots and present verbal bases ending in a and the roots of the 7th conjugation take the affixes -āpe and -āpaya. The other roots and verbal bases take all the four affixes.

In causative verbs the radical vowel is strengthened optionally. To the causative bases the verbal terminations are added.

root	causative base	Present 3rd person singular
dā (to give)	dāpe, dāpaya	däpeti, däpayati (he causes another to give, he makes another give)
hā (to give up)	hāpe, hāpaya	hāpeti, hāpayati (he makes another give up)
cur (to steal)	corāpe, corāpaya	corăpeti, corăpayati
dis (to expound)	desāpe, desāpaya	desäpeti, desäpayati
kar (to do)	kāre, kāraya,	kāreti, kārayati
	kārāpe, kārāpaya	kārāpeti, kārāpayati
bhuj (to eat)	bhoje, bhojaya,	bhojeti, bhojayati,
••••	bhojāpe, bhojāpaya

Exceptions

ji (to conquer)	jāpe, jāpaya	jāpeti, jāpayati
ni (to lead)	nāpe, nāpaya	nāpeti, nāpayati
adhi+i (to study)	ajjhāpe, ajjhāpaya	ajjhāpeti, ajjhāpayati
	pīņe, pīņaya	piņeti, piņayati

164. When a causative affix is added to a root of an intransitive verb, it becomes transitive.

pat (to fall)	pāte	päteti (causes to fall, fells)
has (to laugh)	hāse	häseti (makes another laugh)
bha (to become)	bhāve	bhāveti (makes become, develops)

165. By adding the suffixes tva, etc. to the causative base, their gerunds and other verbal forms are construed.

Present tense	dāpeti (causes to give)
Imperative	dapetu (may he cause to give)
Optative	dāpeyya (he should cause to give)
Aorist	(a)dāpesi, dāpayi (caused to give)
Past indefinite	adāpayā (caused to give)
Future	dāpessati (he will cause to give)
Conditional	adapessa (he caused to give)
Present participle	dapayant, dapayamana (causing to give)
Past participle	dāpita, dāpitavant, dāpitāvin (caused to give)
Gerund	daperva (having caused to give)
Infinitive	dapetum (to cause to give)

- 166. The causative form of a transitive verb admits two objects. E.g. Suppaväsä tam därakam Bhagavatam vandāpeti (The lady Suppavasa caused that child to bow down to the Lord). Ud 17. Sometimes the agent that has caused to do the action is placed in the instrumental case. E.g. brāmhano uņhodakam kājam purisena gāhāpetvā phāņitassa ca putam āyasmato Upavānassa pādāsi (The brahmin made a man take hot water on a carrying-pole and offered a basket of molasses to the venerable Upavāna). S I 175.
- 167. Double accusatives. Some verbs admit two objects. Some of them are given below.

duh (to milk)	bhikkh (to beg food)	vah (to carry, bear away)
yāc (to beg)	sās (to instruct)	har (to take away)
rudh (to obstruct)

Examples:

Khiranika dhenum khiram duhanti (the dairy folk draw milk from the cow). S I 174.

Pañham tam samana pucchissämi (Friar, I will ask you a question). S I 214.

Puriso gavim gamam nayati (the man takes the cow to the village).

Denominatives

168. Some verbs are formed by adding affixes and verbal terminations to nouns, adjectives, indeclinables and onomatopoeic words.

Substantive

affix Verb

sārajja (shyness)	а	sārajjati (he is shy)
phassa (contact)	а	phassati (he touches) pp. phassita

LESSON 33

Passive Voice

- 175. Passive verbs are formed by adding the usual verbal terminations to the passive base. There are two ways to form the passive verbal base by adding the affix -iya to the present active base or by adding the affix -ya directly to the root.
- 176. First method

Present 3rd pers. sing.	active base	passive verb
bandhati (he binds)	bandha	bandhiyati (it is bound) kiņāti (he buys)	kina	kintyati (it is bought)
deseti (he expounds)	dese	destyati (it is expounded)
karoti (he does)	karo 🕔	kartyati (it is done)

- Note: The final vowel of the present active base is dropped before the affix -Iya.
- 177. When the letter y is added to a consonant the following changes take place,

by	becomes	bb	hy	becomes	yh.
bhy	· 77	bbh	jÿ	#	jj
сy		cc	jhy	H	jjh
chy	Ħ	cch	ky.	# .	1.1.
dy		jj .	khy	.#	kkh
dhy	n ·	jjh	ly	H	II
dy	n	dd	my	4	mm
dhy	. #	ddh	'ny	#	fi fi
8у	11	88	рy	"	pp
ghy	*	ggh	phy	N	pph
ry	# `	yr.	sy	n	55
ſy	H	cc	thy	17	cch
vy	"	bb	•

178. root	passive base	passive present 3rd pers.sing.

179. nf (to lead)	niya	niyati, niyate (is led)

180. In the passive voice the initial 'va' becomes vu.

vac (to say)	(чисуа) чисса	vuccati, vuccate (is said)
vas (to live)	(vusya) vussa	vussati, vussate (is lived)
vah (to carry)	" (vuhya) vuyha	vuyhati, vuyhate (is carried)

181. The final 'a' or 'e' of some roots is changed into t before the affix ya.

pā (to drink)	plya	plyati, plyate (is drunk)
dā (to give)	diya	diyati, diyate (is given)
ma (to measure)	miya	miyati, miyate (is measured)

ve (to weave)	viya	vlyati, vlyate (is woven)

182. Few roots as ha and kha are not changed even in passive voice.

ñā (to know)	ñāya	fiāyati, fiāyate (is known)
ā + khā (to say)	akkhäya	akkhāyati, akkhāyate (is said)

183. In passive voice the agent of the action (verb) is put in Instrumental case. The patient (object) of the action (verb) is put in nominative in agreement with the predicate in person and number. Buddhena dhammo destyate(the Dhamma is expounded by the Buddha) Corena tvam paharlyasi (you are attacked by the thief) Rafina aham dandtyami (I am punished by the king)

^{&#}x27; The short final vowel of the root is lengthened before the affix ya.

Active voice

So kāme bhuājati (he enjoys sensual pleasures) Buddho dhamman desesi (the Buddha expounded the Dhamma) So ogham tarissati (He will cross the flood) Aham rukkham acchecchim (I cut the tree) Sisso vijjam sikkhatu (may the pupil learn science)

184. Passive present participle

By adding the suffix -mana to the passive base the present passive participle is formed. It agrees with the patient (the object) in gender, number and case. These participles are declined in masculine and neuter genders as nouns ending in 'a' and in feminine gender as those ending in a.

Passive verb	Passive present participle
desiyati chijjati	destyamāna (being expounded) chijjamāna (being cut down)
kavirati	kayiramāna (being done)

How to use passive present participle:

Buddhena destyamānam dhammam manussā suņanti (men listen to the dhamma that is being expounded by the Buddha).

Purisena chijjamānasmā rukkhā bahū sakuņā uddesum (many birds flew away from the tree that is being cut down by the man).

185. Future passive participle or Gerundive is formed by adding one of the three suffixes -tabba, -anlya, or -ya either to the present active base or to the verbal root. When these suffixes are added to the root its radical 'i' or 'u' is strengthened (i becomes e and u becomes 'o').

When the suffix -tabba is added the root as well as the verbal base is treated in the same way as when the -num is added in forming infinitive. (see Lesson 9)

root	Infinitive	Gerundive
dā	dātuņ	databba (should be or to be given) nl	netum	netabba (should be or to be led)

vac	vacantya, vacca	(shoud be or to be said)
budh	bodhaniya, bojjha	(shoud be or to be realized)
gam	gamaniya, gamya, gamma	(shoud be or to be gone to)

186. The final 'd' of the roots is changed into 'e' before -ya, and y is reduplicated.

root	Gerundive
dā	(deya) deyya (should be or to be given)
ñā	(fleya) fleyya (should be or to be known)
рā	(peya) peyya (should be or to be drunk)

187. Sometimes Gerundives are used impersonally and are put in neuter nominative singular: Mayā gantabbam (it should be gone by me, I should go, I have to go). Tvayā evam bhavitabbam (you should be like this).

188. Locative Absolute

Kamme kattabbe (when a work should be done).

desāpeti (causes to expound)	passive verb: desāpiyati
passive prest. participle: desapiyamana (causing to be expounded)
Gerundive: desāpetabba, desāpanīya (should be caused to expound)

190. The words like pātikankha (to be expected), sujīva (easy to live), dujjīva (hard to live), sukara (easy to do), dukkara (hard to do) require the agent of the action to be put either in the Instrumental case or in the Genitive case.

kalyāna-mittassa (kalyāna-mittena) etam pāţikankham (this is to be expected by one who has good friends). S V 2.

- 191. -to. The suffix -to is added to a noun to express the senses 'from', 'on account of', 'in the manner of' or 'as'. Buddhato (from the Buddha), stlato (on account of morality), devato (in the manner of a Deva, as a Deva), aniccato (as impermanent)
- 192. The agent of a past passive participle stands either in Instrumental or in Genitive case. Tena katam, tassa katam (done by him)
- 193. Euphonic combinations of the following exercises.

Kim + eva + idam = kimevidam. 'm' before a vowel is most often changed into m.

vuccati + āvuso = vuccatāvuso. i is dropped before a dissimilar vowel.

sam + yamanti = sññamanti. 'my' is changed into fiñ.

etam avoca = etadavoca. 'm' is optionally changed into d before a vowel.

etam + attham = etamattham. 'm' before a vowel is changed into m.

- $ca + iti = c\bar{a}'ti$. Most often i of iti is dropped after a dissimilar vowel and the preceding short 'a' becomes long. Instead of dropped i an apostrophe is placed.
- 194. attham, atthaya. One of these two is compounded with a noun to give the sense "for, for the sake of, in order to". dassanattham, dassanatthāya (for seeing, in order to see)
- 195. Sometimes the Relative pronoun yad is followed by a Demonstrative pronoun just to give emphasis to the sense of the form. Yo so puriso (whatever person), Ye te samanā (whatever recluses)

LESSON 34

Conjugations

196. There are seven conjugations.

'A' is the sign of the first conjugation. When it is affixed to the root, the radical i and u are strengthened (i.e. they become e and o respectively).

But the radical 'a' remains unchanged.

Rt. is (to search) + a = isa = esa. esati (he searches)

Rt. ruh (to grow) + a = ruha = roha. rohati (it grows)

Rt. pac (to cook) + a = paca. pacati (he cooks)

- 197. If 'e' is followed by a vowel, it becomes 'ay' and 'o' (followed by a vowel) becomes 'av'.
 Root nf (to lead) + a = ne a = nay a = naya. nayati (he leads)
 Root bhū (to become) + a = bho a = bhav a = bhava. bhavati (he becomes).
- 198. The radical vowel of some roots remains unchanged. vis (to enter) + a = visa. visati (he enters) tud (to prick) + a = tuda. rudati (he pricks)

199. Second Conjugation

'A' is the conjugational sign and 'm' is inserted between the two consonants of the root. Then this 'm' is changed into the nasal of the group to which the succeeding consonant belongs. (See the five groups of consonants in the Introduction on page 1).

- Rt. rudh (to obstruct) + a = rumdh + a = rundha. rundhati (he obstructs)
- Rt. muc (to release) + a = mum c + a = mum ca. multicati (he releases)

Rt. hid (to wander) + a = hind + a = hinda. hindati (he wanders)

200. Third Conjugation

'Ya' is the conjugational sign of the third conjugation. The 'y' of the conjugational sign is assimilated to the preceding consonant of the root. If the root ends in a vowel, it remains unchanged. For the change of y preceded by a consonant, see Lesson 33 No. 177.

Rt. div (to play) + ya = divya = dibba. dibbati (he plays) Rt. siv (to sew) + ya = sivya = sibba. sibbati (he sews) Rt. budh (to realise) + ya = budhya = bujjha. bujjhati (he realises) Rt. $jh\ddot{a}$ (to muse) + $ya = jh\ddot{a}ya. jh\ddot{a}yati$ (he muses, meditates)

201. Fourth Conjugation

The conjugational signs are 'nu, na,' and 'una'.

'Nu' remains unchanged before the Attanopada (medial) terminations. Otherwise it is changed into 'no'. The 'n' of the conjugational sign is assimilated to the preceding radical consonant.

pa + ap (to approach) + nu = papnu = papno = pappo. pappoti (he approaches)

sak (to be able) + nu = saknu = sakno = sakko. sakkoti (he is able)Exception. as (to eat) + nu = asnu = asno. asnoti (he eats)

- $\bar{a} + vu$ (to string together) + nā. āvunāti (he strings together)
- pa + ap (to approach) + una = papuna. papunati (he approaches, attains)
- sak (to be able) + unā = sakkunā. sakkunāti (he is able). K of sak is reduplicated.

su (to hear) + $n\ddot{a} = sun\ddot{a}$. $sun\ddot{a}ti$ (he hears)

202. Fifth Conjugation

'Na' is the conjugational sign that is added to the roots belonging to the fifth conjugation.

The long vowel before the sign -nd becomes short and 'hn' is transformed into 'nh'.

Rt. kī (to purchase) + $n\bar{a} = kin\bar{a} = kin\bar{a}$. kināti (he purchases)

Rt. mi (to measure) + $n\bar{a}$ = min \bar{a} . min \bar{a} ti (he measures)

- Rt. gah (to take, to accept) + na = gahna = ganha. ganhari (he takes, accepts)
- Rt. as (to eat) + na = asna. asnati (he eats)

Rt. $\hbar a(j\bar{a})$ (to know) + $n\bar{a} = \hbar an\bar{a} = j\bar{a}n\bar{a}$. $j\bar{a}n\bar{a}ti$ (he knows)

203. Sixth Conjugation

"O" is the conjugational sign. Before the Attanopada (medial) terminations this sign 'o' becomes 'u'.

This conjugation has very few roots.

Rt. tan (to spread) + o = tano. tanoti, tanute (he spreads).

R1. kar (to do, to make) + o = karo. karoni, kurute (he does, he makes)

Rt. man (to think) + o = mano. manoti, manute (he thinks)

204. Seventh Conjugation

"E" and "aya" are the conjugational signs of the Seventh conjugation. If the redical vowel is followed by a single consonant, most often it is strengthened i.e. a, l and u becomes a, e and o respectively. Otherwise (if it is followed by more than one consonant) the radical vowel remains unchanged.

Note that all the roots of this class are transitive.

- Rt. cur (to steal) + e, aya = cure, curaya = core, coraya. coreti, corayati (he steals).
- Rt. dhar (to hold) + e, aya = dhāre, dhāraya. dhāreti, dhārayati (he holds)
- Rt. var (to prevent) + e, aya = vare, varaya. vareti, varayati (he prevents)
- Rt. dham (to blow) + e, aya = dhame, dhamaya. dhameti, dhamayati (he blows)
- \rightarrow dham is an exception. Its radical vowel is not strengthened.
- Rt. cint (to think) + e, aya = cinte, cintaya. cinteti, cintayati (he thinks)

LESSON 35

Word-building

- 205. In Pali language words are formed in three ways: by conjoining substantives, by adding suffixes to roots or verbal bases and by adding suffixes to substantives. The first way of forming words has already been dealt with in the lessons 29 and 30. In this lesson we are going to explain the second way of forming words by adding suffixes to Substantives. The Grammarians have named this way of word-formation as "Secondary Derivation of Words" (Taddhitanta). The suffixes that are to be added to substantives are classed into seven groups as, Patronymics, Words expressive of Possession, Abstract Nouns, Numeral Derivatives, Pronominals, Feminine bases, and Miscellaneous.
- 206. Patronymics. The suffixes -a, -ava, -ayana, -ana, -eyya, -era and -ya express descendency. When any one of these is added to a noun the initial vowel of the noun, if not followed by double consonants, is strengthened. When these are added, the final vowel of the noun is dropped.

۱,

-a. vasudeva + a = Vasudeva (the son of Vasudeva)
Baladeva + a = Baladeva (the son of Baladeva)
The final u of a noun becomes o before the suffix -a. O followed by 'a' is changed into 'av'.

Manu + a = Mano + a = manav + a = Manava (descendent of Manu) Upagu + a = Opago + a = Opagav + a = Opagava(descendent of Upagu) Pandu + a = Pando + a = Pandav + a = Pandava(descendent of Pandu) -äyana, -äna. Kacca + ayana, ana = Kaccayana, Kaccana (son or descendent of Kacca) Moggali + ayana, ana = Moggallayana, Moggallana (son of Moggali) Aggivessa + āyana, āna = Aggivessāyana, Aggivessāna (son or descendent of Aggivessa) -eyya. Bhagini + eyya = bhagineyya (the son of the sister) Samana + era = samanera (the pupil or the spiritual son of a -era. monk, i.e. a novice)

vidhava (widow) + era = vedhavera (a widow's son)

-ya. Kundint + ya = kondanya = kondanna' (son of Kundani) Here ku becomes ko as an exception to the rule.

207. Expressives of possession

-a.	Saddha (devotion, conridence) $+ a = saddha$ (one who possesses devotion, a devoted one, devotee)
-āla.	vaca (word) + ala = vacala (talkative)
-ālu.	daya (mercy) + $aiu = dayaiu$ (merciful)
-ava.	kesa (hair) + $ava = kesava$ (hairy, having too much hair on head)
-ita.	phala (fruit) + ita = phalita (fruitful)
	dukkha (sorrow, grief) + ita = dukkhita (sorrowful, grievous)
-ika. 👘	dhamma + ika = dhammika (possessing Dharma, righteous)
-in.	$\pi a \eta a + in = \pi a \eta in$ (wise)
•	pakkha (wing) + in = pakkhin (one having wings, a bird)
	dukkha (sorrow) + in = dukkhin (sorrowful)
-ila.	panka (mud) + ila = pankila (having mud, muddy) sikatā (sand) + ila = sikatila (sandy)
-mant.	dhiti (courage) + mant = dhitimant (courageous)

As an exception i of Kundini becomes a. Thus instead of Kondinna the word has become Kondunna.

-vant. bala (power) + vant = balavant (powerful) [N.B. -vant is added only to nouns ending in 'a', and -mant is added to nouns ending in i, i, u, u or o.]

-vin. medhā (wisdom) + vin = medhāvin (wise) māyā (deceit) + vin = māyāvin (deceitful) tejas (glory) + vin = tejasvin = tejassin (glorious) yasas (illustry) + vin = yasasvin = yasassin (illustrious)

[N.B. v of vin is assimilated to the precedings 's'.]

208. Abstract Nouns

-a, -ka, -tta, -ttana, -tā, -ya are the suffixes which are added to nouns or adjectives form Abstract Nouns.

When this suffix -a is added, the final 'u' of a noun becomes 'o'. -a. and 'o' becomes 'av' before a vowel (See No. 197). garu (heavy) + a = garo + a = garav + a = garava(heaviness, respect, honour) patu (clever) + a = pato + a = patav + a = patava(cleverness) visama (uneven) + a = vesama (unevenness) uju (straight) + a = ajjava (straightness)¹ ramaniya (attractive) + ka = ramanevvaka (attractiveness) -ka. 'I' of the becomes 'e' exceptionally. manufifia (lovely) + ka = manufifiaka (loveliness) -tta, -ttana Buddha + tta = Buddhatta (Buddhahood) j dy d (wife) + tta, ttana = j dy atta, j dy attana (state of a wife) $j\bar{a}ra$ (paramour) + tta, ttana = $j\bar{a}ratta$, $j\bar{a}rattana$ (state of a paramour) Sabbathu (omniscient) + $t\bar{a} = sabbathut\bar{a}$ (omniscience) -tä. surupa (handsome) + $t\ddot{a} = surupata$ (handsomeness) dubbala + ya = dubbalya (weakness) -уа, vikala (deformed) + ya = vekalla (deformity) alasa (lazy) + $iya = \bar{a}lasiya$ (laziness) jagara (wakeful) + iya = jagariya (wakefulness) macchara (stingy) + iya = macchariya (stinginess)

Yā imasmim janapade janapada-kalyānī, taņ icchāmi (I long for the most beautiful woman in this district).

- (c) When the Relative pronoun 'ya(d)' is repeated it expresses the sense 'whosoever' or 'whatsoever', and the correlative pronoun also is repeated: So yena yena icchati tena tena gacchati, yattha yattha icchati tattha tattha titthati (Wherever he likes [to go] there he goes and wherever he likes [to stand] there he stands). S II 271.
- (d) Sometimes the relative pronoun is followed by the indefinite pronoun to express the senses 'whosoever, whatsoever' and 'any whatsoever': Yo hi koci bhikkhave ime satipatihane evam bhaveyya satta vassani (whosoever, monks, should thus develop these four applications of mindfulness for seven years...). N I 63.

Yam kifici sithilam kammam (whatever perfunctory deed). Dh 312.

Yassa kassaci bhikkhuno ime pañca ceto-khila pahina (by whatever monk these five forms of mental barrenness are got rid of). M 1 103.

- (e) Sometimes the Relative Pronoun is followed by an Interrogative pronoun with the particle 'va': Yo va ko va (whosoever).
- (f) Relative Pronoun followed by a Demonstrative Pronoun expresses the sense 'whatever' or 'whichever' and when the particle 'vä' follows each of them, it expresses the sense "this or that" or "ordinary". Yo vā so vā yakkho (an ordinary Yakkha). S I 160.
- (g) There are three kinds of Demonstrative Pronouns, namely, ta(d), eta(d) and idam. They are used in sentenses both as pure pronouns and pronominal adjectives as well.

Frequently we meet in the text the constructions so aham, so tvam, Ayamaham, eso'ham, tam mam, tassa mayham and the like. In such phrases the preceding pronoun expresses the sense "aforesaid". Thus 'so aham' means "I (being such as mentioned before)": So aham vicarissami gama gamam naga nagam (I who have understood the doctrine as mentioned before, will now go from village to village and from city to city [or from mountain to mountain]). S I 215.

- (h) Sometimes the pronoun 'eta(d)' or 'idam' preceded by 'ta(d)' emphasizes the sense of the succeeding pronoun: 'So eso' or 'so ayam' (this very same person).
- (i) In some places 'eta(d)' expresses the sense 'there' while 'eta' or 'idam' the sense 'here':

So dārako gacchati (there the boy goes). Eso (ayam) dārako āgacchati (here the boy comes).

(j) The Demonstrative Pronoun being repeated gives the sense 'several' or 'various':

Tam tam kāranam āgamma (concerning this or that [or various incidents]). Dh A I 1.

Verbs

- 224.
- (a) There are six Tenses and three Moods in Pali. Tenses are Present, Aorist, Imperfect Past, Future and Conditional.
 Moods are: Indicative, Imperative and Opatative. There is also a Future Imperative very seldom met with, which is included in the Imperative Mood itself.
- (b) The Indicative Mood expresses three kinds of statements, namely, affirmation, negation and interrogation. When expressing a negation or interrogation no auxilliary verb is used as in English. Simply by using a negative particle like 'na', a sentence turns Negative. By putting emphasis on a word (in conversation), or by using an Interrogative pronoun or adverb an expression becomes interrogative. Affirmative: Bhagava Sāvatthiyam viharati (the Lord stays in Sāvatthi) Negative: so pathavim na maāfiati (he does not think in a wrong way of Extension). M I 3.

Interrogative: Kāya-dandan'ti Tapassi vadesi (do you say 'wrong of body', Tapassi)? M I 372.

Santi te evarāpā ābādhā (have you diseases like these)? Vin I 72. Ko pana bhante hetu (what is the cause, revered sir)?

Api nu nam brāmhaņā mante vāceyyum vā na vā (would the brahmans teach him their Verses or not)?

Kattha'dani so Bhagava viharati (where is the Lord staying now)?

- (c) The Present Tense in Pali corresponds to the Present Tense, Present Continuous Tense and the Historical Present in English. Present Tense: Sadiso me na vijjati (there is none like me). Vin I 7. Present Continuous: Gacchāmi Kāsinam puram (I am going to the city of Kāsis). Vin I 7.
- (d) The Present Tense expresses also an existing fact: Na hi verena verāni sammantīdha kudācanam (hatreds are never calmed down by returning hatreds). Dh 5.
- (e) Even both the nearest past and nearest future are also expressed by the Present Indicative:

Gambhīram bhāsati vācam (you have just spoken a word of deep meaning). S I 35.

Kāyassa bhedā duppafiño nirayam so upapajjati (at the body's wreck that foolish person will go to a state of misery). Dh 140. (This was said referring to a person nearing his death).

- (f) Though there are three kinds of Past tenses, the Aorist is the one most frequently used to express all kinds of past incidents. The Past Imperfect is less frequent. The Past Perfect (Parokkhā) is not met with in the Pali Canon except the verb 'babhāva' in the verse: Tatthappanādo tumulo babhāva (there arose a loud tumult). J VI 282.
- (g) The forms 'aha, ahu' and 'ahamsu' are frequently met with. But they are regarded by ancient Pali Grammarians as the forms of Aorist Tense. The much later Pali classics are rich in forms of Past Perfect.
- (h) The Future Indicative generally expresses an action to be performed in the time yet to come. It is used also in the sense of "can" or "must". Ayan mahesakkhāya devatāya adhiggahīto bhavissati (this tree must be tenented by a powerful tree-spirit). DhA I 3.

- (i) The Imperative is used to denote a command, entreaty, blessing, curse, request and aspiration. Read Lesson 6. No. 18.
- (j) The Optative denotes the sense of a hope, prayer, wish, condition probability, capability permission etc. Read Lesson 7. No. 23.
- (k) "The Conditional tense is used to express the past condition with, implied impossibility or supposition, contrary to facts. It is used both in protasis and apodosis." (Pali grammar by H. H. Tilbe) See Lesson 27.

Participles

225.

(a) The Participles are of two kinds, declinable and indeclinable. The Gerund is indeclinable and is also called Indeclinable Past Participle by some Grammarians. All other participles are declinable. They include Present participles, declinable Past participles and Gerundives or Future Passive Participles.

The Declinable participles present, past or future are all of the nature of adjectives and are inflected in the gencier, number and case of the nouns which they refer to. The past participles and the Gerundives are also used in sentences predicatively. The Present participle of Pali corresponds to the same in English ending in "-ing". It may be translated into English using the word "while" or "whilst" Sometimes the Present partciple is used substantively and is to be translated beginning with "he who" or "that which".

So dibbena cakkhunā...satte passati cavamāne upapajjamāne (he, by the Deva-vision...sees beings who are passing hence and uprising there). M I 358.

- (b) The present participle is also used in the sense of a potential verb and when translating into English the conjunction "if" should begin the clause. Idha panekacco gilāno labhanto sappāyāni bhojanāni no alabhanto...vuthāti tamhā ābādhā (here again there is a patient that recovers from his illness, if he gets proper diet...but not if he does not get it). Pug 20.
- (c) The past participles both active and passive, apart from acting as a real past participle, frequently play the part of a past verb (either as Aorist, Imperfect Past or Past Perfect), and agree with the subject of the sentence (or the clause) in gender, number and case. This is the predicative use of the past participles.

(d) Sometimes the verb 'hoti, ahosi, hessati, hotu' or any form or the verb formed from the root 'hū' or 'bhū' may follow Lie declinable participle, relevent to the sense it expresses: Dasmo gahapati Pāţaliputtam anuppatto hoti (the householder Dasama has arrived at Pāţaliputta). M I 354.

Asanāni Paññattāni honsi (seats have been prepared). M I 354.

(e) Some declinable participles are used as nouns as well as adjectives. The 'buddha' and 'sugata' are past participles. 'Buddha' means 'awakened' but is used as a noun. 'Sugata' means 'gone well' and is used as an epithet of the Buddha and sometimes as an adjective. Some more Examples:

Attano'va avekkheyya katāni akatāni ca (one should take notice of what one has done or not done). Dh 50.

Atthi bhikkhave ajätam abhūtam akatam asankhatam (there, monks, is a not-born, a not-become, a not-made, a not-compounded). Ud 80.

Mahant (great), bhavant (dear, friendly) and sant (a good person) are some participles used as adjectives and as nouns.

'Mahant' is the present participle formed from the root Mah (to worship).

'Bhavant' is the present participle from the root $bh\hat{u}$ (to become, to grow).

'Sant' is the present participle formed from the root as (to be).

(f) A Past Participle is also used as an abstract noun: Nissitassa calitam, anissitassa calitam natthi (there is wavering for him who has clung, but for him who has not clung to, there is no wavering). Ud 81.

(g) The declinable Past Participle is also used as a gerund: Ekamantam thita kho sa devata Bhagavantam etadavoca (that deity, having stood aside, said this to the Lord). S I 1.

Atha kho tā devatāyo...siddhāvāsesu devesu antarahitā Bhagavato purato pāturahamsu (then those gods, having vanished from among the gods of the Pure Abodes appeared before the Lord). S 1 26.

(h) The agent of the action denoted by the Past Participle Passive may be put either in the Instrumental Case or in the Genitive Case: Bhota Gotamena samma bhikkhu-sangho patipadito (the Order of the monks has been led properly by the good Gotama). M I 339. Sāvatthiyā avidūre afinatarassa pūgassa āvasatha-pindo patifiatto hori (alms food has come to be prepared in a public rest house near Sāvatthi by some guild). Vin IV 60.

Gerundives

226.

(a) Gerundives are used in the same way as the Passive Past Participles. They express the sense of fitness, propriety, obligation, necessity or capability. They are to be translated using the verbs "is to be", "ought to be", "should be", and occasionally "can be", "could be", "may be" or "might be".

Apăņātipātam nissāya pāņātipāto pahātabbo (through not onslaught on creatures, onslaught on them should be got rid of). M I 360.

- Like Adjectives, Gerundives agree with the nouns they refer to in gender, number and case. They even act the part of the predicate with the agent either in Instrumental or Genitive case. They are sometimes used impersonally and put in the neuter gender and singular number. They are used also as neuter nouns:
- Antarā-magge nadī taritabbā hoti (on the way there is a river to be crossed). Vin IV 64.
- Araññakenāpi kho āvuso Moggallāna ime dhammā samādāya vattitabbā pageva gāmanta-vihārinā (these things, venerable Moggallana, are certainly to be taken up and practised by a monk living in a forest, all the more by one staying near a village). M I 473. Katam karantyam (what is to be done has been done). M I 23.
- Dasamo gahapati Pāţaliputtam anuppatto hoti kenacideva karaņtyena (the householder Dasama has arrived at Pātaliputta on some business or other). M I 349.

Infinitives

227. The Infinitive in Pali expresses the sense "for the purpose of", "in order to", or "for". It corresponds to the infinitive in English language and involves the sense of the Dative Case.

This is used with verbs or participles which imply a wish or desire. The agent of the action denoted by an infinitive is the same as that of the verb or the predicative participle. Mostly the Infinitive is used in a sentence in connection with the verbs 'arahati' (he deserves), 'sakkoti' (he is able) and 'icchati' (he wants) and those of similar meaning: So na sakkuneyya Gangaya nadiya tiriyam bahaya sotam cherva sotthina param gantum (he would not be able, having cut across the stream of the river Ganges using his arms, to go safely beyond). M I 435.

Icchāma mayam mārisa Nimim rājānam daļļhum (we wish, good sir, to see the king Nimi). M I 78.

Na'dani sukaram amhehi labha-sakkara-siloke pariccajitum (it is not easy for us now to give up gains, honours and fame). M I 524.

Khattiyo pi hi pahoti asmim padese...mettam bhāvetum (On this supposition, a noble, too, is capable of developing a mind of friendliness). M I 151.

 \bar{A} cinnam kho panetam Buddhānam Bhagavantānam āgantukehi bhikkhāhi saddhim paţisammoditum (now it was the custom of the Lords, Awakened Ones, to exchange friendly greetings with the monks coming from a distant place). Vin IV 24.

Arahati pabbajito pabbajitassa pindam patiggahetum (a monk is worthy to accept the alms-food of a monk). Vin IV 24.

Alameva nibbinditum (for sure, one ought to turn away from). D Π 198.

Direct and Indirect Speech

228. The particle 'iti' added to the end of a word or a sentence (i.e. a statement) or a quoted thought denotes what is called "a direct speech" or "direct narration" in English.

Sace me Bhagavā vyākarissati "sassato loko" ti vā "asassato loko" ti vā...evamaham Bhagavati bramha-cariyam carissāmi (if the Lord will explain to me: "The world is eternal," or "The world is not eternal,"...then will I live the higher life under the Lord). M I 427. Ūmi-bhayan'ti kho bhikkhave kodhūpāyāsassetam adhivacanam (the peril of waves, monks, is a designation for angry despair). M I 460. Bhikkhū...ahātaram paccantimam vihāram paţisankharonti "Idha mayam vassam vasissāmā" ti. (the monks were repairing a large dwelling place in the countryside, thinking: "We will spend the rains here."). Vin IV 44.

So eka-divasam...ekam vanaspatim disvā "ayam mahesakkhāya devatāya adhiggahīto bhavissatīti tassa hetthā-bhāgam sodhāpetvā.... (one day he, seeing a large forest tree, thought: "This tree must have been tenanted by a powerful spirit," and having caused the ground under the tree to be cleared....). DhA I 3.

229. Indirect Speech

Sattha tassa anto-geha ntharitva tattha nipajjapita-bhavam flatva.... (the Master became aware that he had been removed from the house and laid there....). DhA I 261

Pañca-satehi bhikkhühi saddhm ägata-bhävam sutvå (hearing that he had come with 500 monks) DhA I 62.

Thus the nouns that express a statement (i.e. words like 'bhāva') becoming the last member of a compound denote the sense of an indirect speech.

KEY TO LESSON 36

Exercise a.

Thus have I heard (lit. Thus it has been heard by me):

One time the Lord was staying in Baranasi, in the Deerpark Isipatana. There the Lord addressed the monks of the groups of the Five (and said):

"There are these two extremes, O monks, that a monk (lit. one who has gone forth to homeless life) should not follow (lit. not to be followed by a monk). What are the two? This one which is the indulgence in sensual pleasures, low, boorish, worldly, not holy and not leading to inward growth (on one hand) and the one which is the self-mortification, painful, unholy and not leading to inward growth.

- 1. The Perfect One, falling into neither of these two extremes, has realised the Via Media which would open one's eye, which invites knowledge and conduces to higher knowledge, to peace of heart, to full understanding and to Nibbana.
- 2. What, O monks, is that via media which would open one's eye...? It is the very same path of eight factors, that is to say: Perfect Understanding, Perfect Thinking, Perfect Speech, Perfect Action, Perfect Livelihood, Perfect Endeavour, Perfect Mindfulness and Perfect Concentration. This, O monks, is the Via Media realised by the Perfect One that would open one's eye....
- 3. This, monks, is the Noble Truth concerning the unsatisfactory nature of the world: birth is risky (unsatisfactory); getting old is unsatisfactory disease is unsatisfactory; death is unsatisfactory; association with the disagreeable is unsatisfactory; dissociation from the agreeable is unsatisfactory; not getting what one likes is unsatisfactory. In short the five aggregates (of existence) of grasping are unsatisfactory.
- 4. This, monks, is the Noble Truth concerning the uprise of what is unsatisfactory: this craving which leads to rebirth accompanied by passionate delight, which finds pleasure here and there, that is to say, craving for sensual pleasures, craving for (the continuity of) rebirths and craving for annihilation.
- 5. This, monks, is the Noble Truth concerning the destruction of what is unsatisfactory: that at which there takes place the complete fading and cessation of the very same craving without any remainder, giving up, relinquishment, release and rejection of the same.

- 6. This, monks, is the Noble Truth concerning the way that leads to the destruction of what is unsatisfactory, namely, the very same way of eight constituents, to wit: Perfect Understanding, ... Perfect Concentration.
- 7. Monks, eye arose, knowledge arose, wisdom arose, full knowledge arose, light arose (in me) concerning things not heard before by me, concerning what is unsatisfactory that this is the Noble Truth of what is unsatisfactory and that this truth is to be throughly understood and also that this truth has already been throughly understood by me.

- 8. Monks, eye arose...(in me)...concerning the Noble Truth of the cause of uprise of what is unsatisfactory and that this cause is to be dispelled and that it has already been dispelled by me.
- 9. Monks, eye arose...(in me)...concerning the Noble Truth of that at which the destruction of what is unsatisfactory takes place that this is the Noble Truth concerning that at which what is unsatisfactory is dispelled and that this thing is to be verified and also it has already been verified by me.
- 10. Monks, eye arose...(in me)...concerning the Noble Truth of the way that this leads towards that at which what is unsatisfactory is dispelled and that it is to be developed and also it has already been developed by me.
- 11. As long as, monks, the knowledge, the vision of these Four Noble Truths with three phases and twelve aspects was not perfectly clear in me, so long did I not claim in the world with its gods, Maras and Brahmas and among people including monks and priests that I have attained to Supreme and Perfect Enlightenment. Further, the knowledge, the vision arose in me: My heart's deliverence is unshakable, this is the last birth and there is no more renewal of birth.
- 12. This did the Lord speak and the monks of the group of five, being glad at heart appreciated His words.
 While this discourse was being uttered the spotless and clear Eye of Truth arose in the Venerable Kondañña that 'whatever is subject to rising, all that is subject to ceasing'.
 Thereupon the Lord gave to this solemn utterance: "O certainly!

Koņdannā realised!" Thus it was how the venerable Koņdannā was known as 'Annāta-Koņdannā'.

Exercise b.

Discourse on the characteristics of Non-ego-entity.

- 1. Thereupon the Lord addressed the monks of the group of Five:
 - Body, monks, is not an ego-entity. Were this body an ego-entity it would not tend to sickness, and would be possible to keep it according to one's wish: "Let my body become thus, let it not become thus". But, monks, as the body is not an ego-entity, it tends to sickness and it is impossible to keep it according to one's wish: "Let my body become thus and not otherwise".

Feeling, monks, is not an ego-entity. Were feeling an ego-entity, it would not tend to sickness and would be possible to keep it according to one's wish....

Perception, monks, is not an ego-entity. Were perception an ego-entity....

Mental Formations, monks, are void of ego-entity. Were Mental Formations are ego-entity....

Consciousness is not an ego-entity. Were consciousness an ego-entity....

"What do you think, monks, about this? Is body permanent or impermanent?"

"Impermanent, Lord" (answered the monks).

"Is that which is impermanent pleasureable (satisfactory) or painful (unsatisfactory)? "

"Painful (unsatisfactory)"

"Is it wise to consider what is impermanent and subject to unsatisfactoriness as 'This is mine, this am I, this is my ego-entity (self)'"? "It is not so, Lord".

"Therefore, monks, whatever body there is, whether past, future, present, internal or external, gross or subtle, inferior or superior, whether far or near – all that body should be seen by means of right wisdom, as it really has been, thus: "This is not mine, this am I not, this is not my ego-entity (self)".

"Is feeling...? Is perception...? Are Mental Formations...?"

Is consciousness permanent or impermanent? ...?

Seeing thus, monks, the learned, holy disciple feels tired of body, tired of feeling, tired of perception, tired of mental formations and tired of consciousness. Feeling tired of body, feeling, perception, Mental Formations, consciousness, he becomes detached. Through detachment, he becomes freed. Being free, there arises in him: "I am freed, rebirth is stopped, lived is the higher life, done is what was to be done and there is nothing more to be done for the attainment to this state (of Perfection).

The Lord said this and the monks of the group of five, glad at heart, appreciated the Lord's speech. Further, while this discourse is being uttered, the minds of the monks of the group of five got freed from mental taints with no more grasping.

Exercise c.

The Fire Sermon

Now at that time the Lord was staying at Gayā hill near Gayā together with a thousand of monks.

There the Lord addressed the monks and said:

"Everything, monks, is burning. What, monks, is everything that is burning?"

- 1. The eye, monks, is burning. Visible forms are burning, Eyeconsciousness is burning, impingement on the eye is burning. The feeling arising from the impingement on the eye, whether pleasant, unpleasant or indifferent, too is burning. What is it burning with? I say: it is burning with the fire of lust, with the fire of anger and with the fire of delusion; it is burning with the (pain of) birth, old age, death, grief, sorrow, suffering, lamentation and despair.
- 2. The ear is burning, sounds are burning, ear-consciousness is burning. Impingement on the ear is burning. The feeling arising from the impingement on the ear....
- 3. The nose is burning, odours are burning, nose-consciousness is burning. Impingement on the nose....
- 4. The tongue is burning, tastes are burning, tongue-consciousness is burning. Impingement on the tongue is burning. The feeling arising from the impingement on the tongue is burning....

- 5. The body is burning, tangible objects are burning, body-consciousness is burning, impingement on the body is burning, the feeling arising from the impingement on the body....
- 6. The mind is burning, ideas are burning, mind-consciousness is burning, impingement on the mind is burning. The feeling arising from the impingement on the mind, whether pleasant, unpleasant or indifferent, too is burning. What is it burning with? I say: it is burning with the fire of lust, with the fire of anger, with the fire of delusion. It is burning with the (pain of) birth, old age, death, grief, sorrow, suffering, lamentation and despair.

7. The learned holy disciple, who sees thus disregards eye, visible forms, eye-consciousness, impingement on the eye, the feeling arising from the impingement on the eye whether pleasant, unpleasant or indifferent.

He disregards ear...nose...tongue...body...mind.... Thus disregarding he becomes detached. Through detachment he becomes freed. When he is freed he has knowledge: "I have been freed, rebirth is stopped, higher life has been lived out, what is to be done has been done, there is nothing to be done anymore for this state (of Perfection)".

While this discourse was being uttered, the minds of those thousand monks became freed from all mental taints with no more grasping.
